WHY ATTEND CMC NEXCOR 2027

CMC NEXCOR 2027 has been thoughtfully designed to deliver an exceptional scientific and academic experience for clinicians, interventional cardiologists, imaging specialists, researchers, scientists, nurses, allied healthcare professionals, trainees and industry innovators.

Bringing together leading experts in structural heart disease and transcatheter therapies from across the world, the summit offers a unique opportunity to learn from internationally recognised faculty, experience cutting edge structural heart interventions, present original research and build meaningful professional collaborations.

Whether your goal is to expand your knowledge, explore emerging innovations, share new ideas or connect with peers from across the globe, CMC NEXCOR 2027 offers an unparalleled platform for learning, innovation and networking.
